

ESPO International Congress Fellowship 2023

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to the ESPO executive and organizing team for the fellowship that allowed me to attend ESPO 2023 in Liverpool, UK, between May 20th and 23rd.

The fellowship, amounting to 1000 Euro, covered my travel, accommodation and registration for the conference, granting full access to all the sessions and activities. Throughout the congress, I engaged in diverse topics within pediatric otolaryngology, including practical simulation sessions on airway management, newborn tracheostomy and bronchoscopy. Furthermore, I had the honor of presenting a poster on the differential diagnosis of neck masses in children.

A memorable aspect of the experience was the sponsorship that allowed me to participate in the exclusive ESPO Networking Dinner at the Liverpool Anglican Cathedral, providing me with the valuable opportunity to connect with some of the world's leading pediatric otolaryngologists.

My participation in the ESPO Congress was a milestone in my professional development, enriching my knowledge of pediatric otolaryngology. This experience has not only deepened my commitment to the discipline but has also fostered a profound appreciation for the unwavering support offered by the ESPO committee.
